

DIXON TALENT APPEARS TO FINE ADVANTAGE IN SOCIETY CIRCUS; FIRST PERFORMANCE SUCCESS

EXCELLENT PRODUCTION GIVEN
AT OPERA HOUSE THURS-DAY EVENING.

ALL WORTHY OF COMMENDATION

Everyone Who Took Part Entitled to Credit for Charming Entertainment.

The members of the board of directors of the Katherine Shaw Be-thea hospital, director Mrs. Florence McGill Wallace, Miss Myrtle Rice, the musical director, and every member of the cast which took part in the first production of the Society Circus and Hippodrome at the Dixon opera house Thursday evening has reason to feel great personal pride in the production, for the performance was pronounced by an audience which filled the theater to capacity to have been one of the best local talent plays ever given in Dixon.

Solos, choruses, dances and stage settings combined to make the evening one of complete enjoyment to everyone, and the spontaneous and hearty applause which greeted every number was evidence that the effort of all concerned were heartily appreciated.

The First Scene.

Following a brief speech of introduction and appreciation by Ringmaster E. T. Bailey, the Wild West show was instituted. Miss Bernice Friedline, as the Girl of the Golden West gave an excellent exhibition of rifle shooting and her little assistants, the Dollies, ably assisted. The little ones indeed did remarkably well, and under the kind care of Red Cross Nurse Mrs. L. E. Edwards, assisted her excellently in "Take Me Back to Babyland." Little Josephine Anderson also made everyone in the house love her with her solo. The Dollies were: Ruth Rice, Ella Smith, Donald Raymond, Mary Evelyn Miller, Helen Miller, William Rhodes, Frances Campbell, Alice Powell, Louise Brewster, Carl Buchner, Thomas Hollihan, Dorothy Lennon and Josephine Anderson. The chaperons of this group were Mrs. C. D. Anderson and Mrs. E. H. Cahill.

The Broncho Girls and Cowboys, appropriately costumed gave an excellent setting for Willard Beach's solo "In Georgia Land," in which Miss Friedline sang the obligato. The Broncho Girls were: Misses Ethel Sterling, Josephine Altman, Rosanna Demert, Helen Bacharach, Elizabeth Owens, Mazie Espy, Erma Drew, Georgia Marshall, Olga Rice, and Aileen Barry; while the Cowboy roles were taken by Messrs. Eugene Cahill, Vernon Tennant, Mahlon Dolahan, Floyd Chapman, Herbert Smith, Hollis Drew, Frank McCarthy, John Alexander, Charles Hennessy and F. L. Ryan. Mrs. C. H. McKenney was chaperon of the group.

An Indian Camp.

An Indian tepee was the third setting and John Batchelder as big chief Battle Ax as soloist was ably assisted by the following Indian Maidens: Misses Miriam Lapham, Florence Williams, Marian Miller, Hope Coakley, Blanche Chapman, Charlotte M. Campbell, Elizabeth Raymond, Ruth Jegi, Margaret Lawson, Gladys Kenney, Grace Jegi, Leah Lawson, Helen Vinton, Leota Rice, Anna Marie Worthington, Ruth Rosenthal and Neoma Olmstead. Mrs. M. Lee Dycart was chaperon.

Mrs. L. E. Edwards was an ideal Zulu princess, her solo was rendered

The heavy rains of the week made it necessary for Congressman John C. McKenzie to abandon his proposed two-day automobile trip through the county; but the popular and efficient representative of the district did not "pass up" Lee county, despite the rain.

He went by rail this morning to Sublette and spent some time there, and then to Compton and Paw Paw where he was heartily greeted. Tonight he will address a meeting in Paw Paw.

Tomorrow he will visit those communities he can reach, and in the evening he will be in Franklin Grove where a big meeting has been arranged. And it is certain that in the communities in which the meetings have been arranged our congressman will draw crowds, rain or no rain.

The Telegraph today received many words of commendation for adding George Fitch's Vest Pocket Essays to its list of daily features. HOUSE AND BARN BURN IN SIX WEEKS

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD STOUTER ARE VICTIMS OF SEC-OND DISASTER.

BARN BURNED LAST EVENING

Fortunately Most of Live Stock Had Been Sold During the Day.

The large new barn on the farm owned and occupied by Howard Stouffer about two miles east of this city, was totally destroyed by fire early last evening. All of the contents of the barn, including hay, oats, harness and machinery was lost.

The origin of the fire is unknown but an auction sale was held at the Stouffer place yesterday and it is thought that the fire started from a cigar or cigarette stump thrown about some hay or other inflammable substance. Fortunately almost all of the live stock owned by Mr. Stouffer had been sold at the sale and there was no stock in the barn when the fire was discovered.

Owner in Dixon.
Mr. Stouffer was in this city when the fire was discovered and did not reach home until the big farm building was almost in ruins. Neighbors were called to the scene as soon as the fire was discovered and did everything in their power to stop the progress but to no avail.

The barn, which was almost a new one, was a basement structure about thirty by sixty feet in dimensions. It was partly covered by insurance. The elegant new residence on the Stouffer farm was burned to the ground about six weeks ago and since that time the family has been living in tents during the erection of a new one, which is now in progress.

These two fire losses following each other so closely is a particularly heavy blow to the family and they will be forced to suffer many hardships until both buildings have been replaced.

GYM CLASS TO MEET.

The first meeting of the Business men's gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the association building this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

FRANK BARTHOMEW DIED VERY SUDDENLY

FORMER LEE COUNTY MAN PASS-ED AWAY AT HOME IN SELTON, MINN.

Frank Bartholomew, who until ten years ago was a resident of Lee county, died suddenly at his home in Selton, Minn., Thursday morning, news of his death having been received by his brothers, Charles, Lewis, Gust and Robert and his sister, Mrs. Lena Ruggles, of this city. The brothers left last evening for Selton to attend the funeral which will be held in that city.

The deceased, who was about 55 years of age, came to Lee county as a boy and spent his entire life, until a decade ago, in this vicinity. He is survived by his wife and five children to whom the condolence of many friends who will remember Mr. Bartholomew is extended.

CRUISER WITH CREW SUNK BY A SUBMARINE

ENGLISH CRUISER HAWKE SENT TO BOTTOM IN NORTH SEA THURSDAY.

BUT FORTY OF CREW SAVED

German Submarine Boat Was Also Sunk Along East Coast of Holland.

London, Oct. 16.—The Admiralty has officially confirmed the report of the sinking of the British cruiser, Hawke, by a German submarine in the North Sea. But 52 of the crew were saved.

The Admiralty's statement says: "The cruiser Theseus was attacked by a submarine in the North Sea yesterday but was missed."

"The Hawke, Captain Williams, was attacked at about the same time and sunk. Boatswain Austin, Gunner Dennis, Acting Gunner Evitt and 49 of the men were landed at Aberdeen by a trawler. The remaining officers and men are missing."

The Hawke was of 7350 tons displacement, 350 feet long and 40 feet beam. She was launched in 1892 and her armament consisted of 31 guns and two torpedo tubes. Her crew was supposed to be 545 men, but she may have had fewer on board when she went down.

SUBMARINE SUNK.

Edinburgh, Oct. 16.—A correspondent of the Scotsman reports the British patrol ships located a German submarine resting on the east coast of Holland Saturday, awaiting a supply ship.

One patrol vessel dislodged the submarine, and then commenced a weird scene in the glare of search lights. About 11:30 p. m. the enemy was caught and forced to come to the surface for the last time. There was an immediate crash of gun fire and the submarine went to the bottom.

Mexico City, Oct. 16.—The Mexican foreign minister, Ysidro Fabella, declared that General Carranza has refused the supreme power of the constitutionalists in favor of Antonio Villarreal, governor of the state of Nuevo Leon.

Minister Fabella said that Carranza considered the action of the Mexican City convention in rejecting his resignation settled the question, but if the convention at Aguas Calientes voted to reconsider it Carranza would bow to the majority.

Think All Factions Will Agree.
Washington, Oct. 16.—General Carranza has presented his resignation to the Mexican peace commission, but this gathering has decided not to act on it until Zapata is represented in the meeting, according to official advice received here. The convention has recessed until the 20th.

Adjournment of the meeting at Aguas Calientes without acting on the resignation of Carranza was announced in official dispatches to the state department from Consular Agents Carothers and Kanova.

In secret session Wednesday the convention agreed that its authority in Mexico should be declared supreme on the arrival of the Zapatistas. The reports indicated that Carranza's resignation was not actually presented and would not be until the convention reconvened.

Both Carothers and Kanova reported that harmony reigned at the close of the session.

Prior to the decision to defer final action regarding Carranza, however, there were many heated debates, which threatened to disrupt the convention.

Administration leaders were of the opinion that the outcome of the convention made it probable that all factions in Mexico would be able to come to an agreement which would include the suppression of minor discordant elements.

REALTY DEALERS ARE WITH SEN. SHERMAN

CLUB ORGANIZED TO WORK FOR ELECTION OF REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

HIS RECORD IS PRAISED

Says Illinois Contains No Abler Man
Than the Present Junior Senator.

Chicago's real estate dealers yesterday organized a Lawrence Y. Sherman club to take charge of the senator's campaign among the realty men. Wyllis W. Baird was elected president and Harry S. Dietrich secretary.

Gives Reason for Action.

President Baird, in explaining the purpose of the organization and the reasons for supporting Senator Sherman in the senatorial campaign, said:

"With dull times and increased taxes, real estate investors are beginning to study the causes and the deeper they delve into the subject the more convinced they become that there has been too ready acceptance of every new plan and theory of government."

"In these days of depressed business more than ordinary care should be exercised in the selection of men for high offices. It is not the time to experiment with untried men or new and untested theories of government."

"We need honest and capable men. In the U. S. senate we are ably represented by Lawrence Y. Sherman, who, during his brief term, has shown a profound knowledge of public affairs and a keen sense of public requirements."

Praises Sherman's Ability.

"Senator Sherman stands for a protective tariff and the economic policies which in force have always produced business prosperity. He is a keen student and exceptionally gifted with the means of expression. The upper house of congress should be composed by the nation's ablest men."

"Illinois contains no abler man than Lawrence Y. Sherman. The citizens whose investments are in real estate must awake to the necessity of selecting competent men for public offices. Their property suffers the greatest from misgovernment, viz: taxation and stagnation. "Senator Sherman has voted right and spoken wisely in the senate. We should keep him there."

IMPATIENT TO ENTER CITY

Five Thousand Said to Be Anxious

Sam's Men.

(Associated Press)

Vera Cruz, Oct. 16.—The evident preparation on the part of a detachment of 200 Mexicans under General Aguilera for an attack on the American outposts here last night resulted in the strengthening of the American lines.

This detachment now has two mounted guns trained on the American soldiers, and their warlike activity is attributed to over-indulgence in liquor.

Gen. Aguilera has 5000 men whom it is reported are impatient to enter the city, and it is feared he may not be able to restrain them. It is reported, also, that Aguilera has wagered that he will take breakfast in Vera Cruz Sunday morning.

ROCHELLE TEAM HAS CHAMPIONSHIP BEE

AGGREGATION WHICH MEETS
DIXON AT FOOT BALL TOMOR-ROW AFTER HONORS.

Providing the weather permits, Athletic park will be the scene of one of the best football games of the season tomorrow afternoon when the local high school team meets the team from the Rochelle high school.

The Rochelle team has aspirations for the championship of Northern Illinois but local fans would not be surprised if the local eleven should throw a bomb into their hopes by beating them tomorrow. The Rochelle team is much heavier than the Dixon boys but Coach Homrich hopes that the speed of his warriors will overcome the advantage in weight held by their opponents.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS AT OSTEND COMPLETES THE NORTH AND SOUTH LINES IN WEST.

SEND HEAVY REINFORCEMENTS

Between 300,000 and 400,000 Men
Being Rushed Into France
This Week.

(Associated Press)

WAR SUMMARY.
The latest news available in London today said that the Germans are now within ten miles of Ostend and that the arrival of the Kaiser's troops near that city straightens their line, which now runs almost due south and WITHOUT A FLANK.

This leaves the German army in the west without a flank anywhere, their forces extending clear to the coast on the north. The completion of the German lines therefore makes it necessary for the allies to break through at some point.

GERMANS REPORT.

The German embassy at Washington today received the following wireless from Berlin: "Near Antwerp between 4000 and 5000 prisoners were taken and also 500 cannon and 4000 tons of grain, together with plenty of wool, metal and cattle. The harbor works remain undamaged. French attacks near Albert have been repulsed, the Russian advance in East Prussia has failed and a Russian attack with eight army corps from Warsaw and Ivanigor has been repulsed." connects with the forces in France.

FRENCH TAKE CAMP.

The French embassy at Washington reports the capture of Hannes Camps, southwest of Arras, by the allies and an advance by the Germans from Audegharden to Courtrai.

MANY CASUALTIES

The British officers' casualties list up to Oct. 5 is: Killed, 280; wounded 655; missing, 298.

LONG BATTLE LINE.

A French official announcement says: "The left field of action of the allies extends from Ypreo to the sea. On Oct. 13 German attacks on Warsaw and Ivanigor were repulsed by the Russians."

CLOSE WIRELESS.

The Marconi wireless station at Honolulu, which sent a wireless dispatch announcing the arrival of the German gunboat Geier, has been ordered closed unless a satisfactory explanation is made within twenty-four hours.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR GERMAN WESTERN ARMY

London, Oct. 16.—Important German reinforcements, particularly artillery, have been sent to the west battle front," cables the Reuter Copenhagen correspondent. It is estimated that the number of troops is between 300,000 and 400,000.

ARREST GERMANS IN LONDON HOUSE

London, Oct. 16.—Twenty-two Germans were arrested by the police here after being found in a building with foundations and roof of heavy concrete. The premises were used by a German music publisher as a factory and its site commanded several important railroad junctions. In Paris the premises of the same firm were recently blown up by order of the French government.

Aviator Will Fly Over Dixon Enroute to Chicago

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 15.—Billy Robinson of Grinnell, the aviator, who will attempt to establish a long distance continuous flight record by flying from Des Moines to Chicago, arrived in Des Moines from Grinnell in his monoplane this afternoon. He made the journey of fifty-six miles in thirty-five minutes.

He is ready to start on his 350 mile trip from Des Moines to Chicago as soon as the weather is right. His flight depends largely on the direction of the wind, but if possible he will follow the Northwestern line.

If the weather is good tomorrow there is a possibility of his starting.

Dixon.—The Telegraph has been asked by the Des Moines Capital, which newspaper is engineering the flight, to record the time of Robinson's passage over Dixon; and the Capital will also advise this paper of the time he leaves Des Moines, which information will be bulletined on the Telegraph's board at Kennedy's cigar store.

SOX CONTINUE TO BE CHICAGO CHAMPIONS

Clinch City Title with Two Hits in Deciding Game.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The Sox still are city champions. The team beat the Cubs 3 to 2. A ninth inning rally just failed for the Cubs. The Sox used three pitchers. Scott was knocked out of the box in the first by the Bears, and the Sox responded in the fourth by knocking out Humphries and taking the lead. About 9,000 fans saw the game.

Today Scott plans on joining the All-Americans, who will tour to the Pacific coast, meeting the All-Nationals in various cities. From Frisco they will sail to Hawaii. Scott figures on seeing as much of the world as he can before retiring from base ball. It will be remembered he toured the globe last winter with the Sox.

The following is the score:
R. H. E.
Nationals.....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 8 1
Americans.....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0—3 2 0

IMPICATES SERB OFFICIAL

One of Assassins of Austrian Prince Tells of Plot.

London, Oct. 16.—A dispatch from Sarajevo says that at the trial of the assassin of the Arch Duke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, Gavril Prince, who fired the first shot, admitted that Major Tankosic, a Serbian officer, had supplied the conspirators with revolvers. Gavrilovic, one of the accomplices, says that Tankosic superintended their target practice and supplied them with revolvers and bombs to kill the royal pair.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

If the promoters go through with that proposition to make a motion picture of scenes in Dixon they'll have to go darned slow to catch any movement made by some fellows we could name.

Incidentally there's to be another performance of Mrs. Wallace's World's Greatest at the Opera House tonight; and—as the festive campaign managers are wont to say: WE PREDICT A large house.

We note by our own Dixon's Greatest Newspaper of last evening that a "Warrent" was issued for some fellow who had vanocosed. Now warrent that a heluv'fine bonehead?

A congressman from Mass. told congress yesterday that the United States is "totally unprepared" for any kind of war, offensive or defensive. Whereupon the happy thought struck out: How darned thankful we Dixonites should be that we live so far inland and a battleship couldn't possibly get up the Heanepin canal.

On the other hand it might not be so serious if a superdreadnought did wend its festive way up that ditch over which Sterling and Rock Falls have raved so joyfully. For beyond a doubt the crew of the crew of the crew of the crew of the aforesaid superdreadnought would see that sign stuck up in Sterling: "Sterling and Rock Falls, Linked Together with a Single Link, Progress" and they'd all look around and then laugh themselves to death.

Some wise gink has said: "Learn how to feed your hogs and you will know how to feed your children."

And we, who are not wise, have seen some kids, the feeding of which would undoubtedly bring a full knowledge of the proper way to feed hogs.

And just to beat some one else around Dixon to it, let us suggest that you

OFFERS CAR TO LEE COUNTY ROADMEN

R. A. RODESCH WANTS THEM TO SEE SOME REAL ROADS IN HOOSIER STATE.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rodesch and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kling have returned from an automobile trip to Cincinnati on which they were gone eight days and traveled a total of 1010 miles. The trip was made in Mr. Rodesch's Franklin car and a remarkable feature of the trip was that they had no tire trouble whatever throughout the extended trip.

Mr. Rodesch says that the roads

OCTOBER 16 1914

THEN . . . and . . . NOW

Twenty-five years ago today representatives of twenty-one nations met in Washington to lay down uniform rules for ocean travel and traffic. It was the first International Maritime Conference. It was world-wide, some of its members coming from such distant countries as Siam, China and Hawaii. The purpose of the meeting was voiced by Secretary of State Blaine, who said: "The spoken language of the world will continue to be many, but necessity commands that the unspoken language of the sea shall be one." In those days the "Languages of the Seas," were indeed many. Some of the rules were heritages of centuries back and in conflict with the rules of other nations. One of the first steps toward making the ocean travel safe was taken by the American Commander Maury, who mapped the currents of the sea. Even before the Civil war he had advocated that transatlantic lines would follow certain lines to avoid icebergs and dangerous fogs. The assembly adopted these suggestions, and during the eleven weeks which the sessions covered many minor points such as fog signals, lights, local draughts, and the worthiness of vessels, fixing responsibility for wrecks, systems of bouys and beacons, as well as tests for sight and color blindness, were made standard throughout the world.

In Illinois were poorer than any he was forced to travel over, notwithstanding the fact that they traveled through a rough and hilly section of Indiana and Ohio. The roads in Indiana and Ohio are nearly all built of gravel taken from creek bottoms, according to Mr. Rodesch and in many instances the gravel is hauled long distances. The majority of the road work is done by farmers who give their time toward making better roads.

Study Indiana.
He urges that county superintendents of highways and road men throughout the state make a united effort to get better roads. He would advise road men to take a trip over Indiana roads in order to see the system used there. He stated that he would give the free use of his car in taking the members of the board of Supervisors to Indiana to inspect the roads there, providing arrangements for other cars could be made.

Mr. Rodesch stated that during his trip he was able to average 23 miles an hour on the Indiana roads but in Illinois he was forced to cut his speed to 15 to 18 miles per hour.

He stated that he had seen a strip of dirt road where oil had been used to a good advantage by making a row in the center of the driveway portion. The oil on this served to drain the water away and as a result the road was never muddy.

PAYS A TRIBUTE TO HIS MOTHER

Senator Sherman Talks of His Youth and Training.

TAUGHT IN COUNTRY SCHOOL

Love for His Daughter, His Friends and Books Fill Those Moments of His Life Unoccupied by Public Duties.

(Reproduced From the Chicago Herald, October 2, 1914.)
By HELEN HERALD.

The train was slowing down to pass a little station in Illinois—slowing down until to our surprise it stopped. Someone touched me on the arm: "There, look to your right, along the platform. Do you see that man?"

"You don't mean that man in the black suit with the little bag, do you, the thin man just boarding the train?" "Of course I do," said my companion, "that is Lawrence Y. Sherman, the present senator for Illinois. He's a Republican, you know."

Of course I knew, but I was a trifle disappointed. There had been little that was distinctive in the hasty glance I had taken at Mr. Sherman, and I had expected something different, at least, from the way I had heard others talk about him; different if only in attire—an utter disregard for clothes being one of the things I had heard about Mr. Sherman on every side.

But this man was just like every one else; he was neither more nor less untidy than the other men around, farmers and so on from that particular tract of country, and I waited rather listlessly for the form of the senator to appear.

On Quest for Senator.
But the train started and still he did not appear. Curious, I went in search of him.

The train was rather crowded. I looked for the thin, gaunt figure of Lawrence Sherman, saw many men who answered to that description, but nothing at all like the man whose features I was accustomed to see from the pictures scattered all over the state by busy agents of the Republican party. With a feeling of disappointment I turned to re-enter my coach.

Close to the door there sat a man talking to a little child. He was bending over a bag and taking from it some apples, green and red-checked apples, with a fine polish upon them. Yet not polished sufficiently, it seemed, for he rubbed the apples on his sleeve again and then held them out to the boy.

"Red, rosy-checked apples," he said, in the softest voice imaginable.
Then I recognized the face, the face for which I had been looking; this man, this smiling, friendly-looking man, the boy was little more than Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, the gentle Sherman of the pictures and the innumerable stories I had heard.

Boyhood in Poverty.
Mr. Sherman was born in Ohio in 1858. His parents were so poor that he says that he never even imagined what it would be to be rich. Such an imagination was beyond him, as it would have been beyond many a boy of that generation, with the difficulties to contend with that beset the little Lawrence. Yet he was always happy, with a happiness that was a part of his heritage from his hard-working, poverty-stricken parents.

His earliest recollection—and I wish you could see the half-humorous, yet dreamy way, in which he speaks of it—is of being in a big open space in the country somewhere, with a huge and terrible looking animal bearing down upon him. As he shrank back he heard a voice telling him not to be afraid, it was only a nice dog, and he listened to that voice, as well he might, for it belonged to his mother, the mother of whom even now Sherman speaks with awe.

His Tribute to Mother.

"My mother was a careful, God-fearing housewife. Industry, economy and a lifetime war on dirt are among my memories of her. She was methodical, faithful to her promises and managed well. I owe more to her than to any other person in the world. Whatever of economy, perseverance or simplicity of living habits are mine, I have from her."

This is a tribute that differently expressed, maybe, most great men could make to their mothers, and it is a great one: "Whatever of perseverance or simplicity of living habits are mine."

Perhaps, in this strenuous and artificial age, we do not realize quite what that means, the real value of having simple habits of living. It is well to joke upon the many mistakes Lawrence Sherman made in the matter of clothes and attire, but it is a different thing to live as he has been willing to live, to work for every cent that was spent, to work gladly for his father until the age of twenty-one, hiring out to different farmers round, and taking his wages home, spending the small amount of money given to him in books.

Books, indeed, are Lawrence Sherman's great extravagance. He cannot resist the chance of handling, and if possible possessing, a first edition or a rare book of any kind.

His Love for Books.
He showed some of that taste when

SENATOR SHERMAN AND HIS DAUGHTER

"The Little One" Only Name by Which Father Refers to Virginia Since Death of Her Mother.

he read a law book first at the age of seventeen, and found a language purporting to be English, indeed, but totally incomprehensible to him. He wanted to understand, the rare and the curious already had him in thrall; when he had the money he spent it again on more law books. He would understand if it took him a lifetime to do it.

His sister Sylvia and his sister Jennie were respectively older and younger than himself. Sylvia began to teach school and in 1872 young Sherman applied for a county school and gained the position of teacher. To get it he had to go to the county seat and be examined.

Here Sherman received his first shock with regard to clothes.

"They seemed to me, in that hall of examination, to be the best dressed and wisest looking people I had ever seen. I had on my heavy boots and my rough trousers, and I suffered keenly from the inspection of curious eyes. But most of the questions were on matters I knew something about, so I grew less nervous as time went on. It's the only recollection of my clothes ever bothering me," ended Mr. Sherman with that dry, elusive, sweet smile of his.

Begins to Read Law.

The lad—he was little more, though he had been working away from home for some years—read law and entered McKendree college while he was teaching school in Jasper county, Illinois. He bought a second-hand and dog-eared copy of Blackstone and read it. That spring, in June, he was engaged by a school three miles north of Lebanon. At night and in the morning he read law, and went to town on Saturdays for his examinations. He was doing this for three years.

Now this is a matter of personal history, but I want to point out how it shows the spirit of the man. If it be true that "the boy is father of the man," then the perseverance that kept young Sherman at the study of law during the delights of early mornings in spring and fall, not to speak of summer and winter, that sent him home to the same dull books when the day's teaching was over, is the same perseverance that has kept him at the different tasks of his life. It is true that other men have done the same things; other men have worked in poverty and cold, have suffered hunger and thirst and blisters from the cold; but the men who have done all these things have almost always amounted to something, been somebody worth while. Sherman is no exception to this rule.

Admitted to Bar.

In 1882, after having been examined in the supreme court and admitted to the bar, young Lawrence went to Macomb. It was a windy day in spring when he reached the little town, and he walked up from the station with interest and high hopes in his heart. He had only $7 in his pocket, but he was used to shortage of money. He had been accustomed to earn all the meals he ate, and he had no fear of not being able to earn enough.

If life had engendered nothing else, it had taken away all sense of fear from Lawrence Sherman, and, perhaps, of all the gifts that life can give a man, that absence of fear is one of the greatest. So at least the persons who have spent their lives in fearing would claim.

Weeks afterward, back in Springfield and settled in their own home, Mrs. Sherman found the paper weight, and her husband pocketed it with a sigh of relief.

"There is that gift for S—," he said, "I'll slip it into my pocket and take it downtown with me. I shall be sure to meet him in a day or so."

Jerseyville Man Took Liberties with Mother-in-law's Wealth.

Jerseyville, Ill., Oct. 16.—Edgar M. Davis was found guilty in the circuit court here of embezzling $49,000 from the estate left his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Cross. He was trustee of the estate.

Davis was indicted on charges of embezzling $500,000 from the estate, but it was explained that this large figure was named in the indictment to cover any possible shortage that might be unearthed at the trial.

KAISER AGAIN EYEING PARIS

FIGHTING GOING ON NEAR WARSAW

Petrograd, Oct. 16.—Fighting between German and Russian troops is going on within eight miles of Warsaw.

A wireless dispatch received at London says that it is officially reported that German cavalry has entered Przemysl and that the Russians have been unable to prevent the relief of the Galician fortress.
The Union force of South Africa encountered the rebel forces under Lieutenant Colonel Maritz and captured eighty of the rebels.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The official communique issued at 11 o'clock at night says:
"Today's reports show progress on our part at several points on the front. On our left wing, north of the Lys, where we have taken Estaires on the center, north and east of Rheims, where we have advanced about two kilometers, on the heights of the Meuse and in the Woëre, south of St. Mihiel and near Marche-ville."

Estaires is on the Lys midway between Hazebrouck and La Bassée, from which it is about twelve miles distant. Marcheville, on the right wing, is about fifteen miles east by south of Verdun.

The official communication given out in the afternoon says:

"In Belgium German troops coming from Antwerp are marching toward the west, and the evening of Oct. 11
they reached the region of Bruges and Thielt (fifteen miles southeast of Bruges).

Quit Left Bank of Lys.

"On our left wing the enemy has evacuated the left bank of the Lys.
Between the Lys and the Canal of La Essee the situation shows no change.

"In the region of Lens and between Arras and Albert our progress has been marked.

"Between the Somme and the Oise
there has been no change. The Germans have evacuated our line without, however, delivering any infantry attacks.

"On the center, between the Oise and the Meuse, we have advanced in the direction of Craonne.

"To the northeast of the highway from Berry-au-Bac to Rheims and to the north of Prunay, in the direction of Beine, several German trenches have been taken.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, after having repulsed during the night of Oct. 13-14 certain attacks to the southeast of Verdun, our troops advanced on the 14th to the south of the highway from Verdun to Metz.

German Attack Fails.

"On our right wing the partial offensive movement undertaken by the Germans in the Ban de Sapt, to the north of Saint Die, has been definitely checked."

The newspaper France du Nord of Paris declares today that when the Germans were defeated at Arras they lost from 12,000 to 15,000 men, who were surrounded by the French in some marshes.

Say French Invite Cathedral Attack.

London, Oct. 16.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Antwerp says the following statement was given out by the German general staff there:

"We have occupied Lille and captured 4,500 prisoners.

Troops Fail to Arrive.

"The municipality informed the German commander that Lille was an open town, but nevertheless hostile troops were sent there and ordered to hold out until a turning movement from Dunkirk was executed. The troops from Dunkirk failed to arrive, with the result that during the German attack the town was slightly damaged.

"From the front in France there is nothing new.

"Two heavy French batteries have been posted near the cathedral in Rheims. Also light signals have been observed from one of the towers. The French methods of warfare continue to show no regard for the protection of the cathedral, and it will be the fact of the French if the beautiful building falls a victim to the war."

Germans Defeated on Lys.

Paris, Oct. 16.—German troops were routed from the west bank of the River Lys, on the Belgian frontier, by French and British forces after a battle of great violence. The invaders had posted strong bodies of troops on this river in an endeavor to check the march of the allies to the northwest.

Fighting for Possession of Metz.

London, Oct. 16.—Desperate fighting is in progress for the possession of Metz. An official statement from Berlin denies rumors that several of the Metz forts have been captured.

tend by strong opposition at Ghent.
A Copenhagen report says the German general staff contemplates an immediate transfer of troops to begin another raid on Paris.

Says French Retake Muelhausen.
London, Oct. 16.—The Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says that a message from Basel states that the French have reoccupied Altkirch and Muel-hausen. The Germans, it is said, were compelled to use 150 motor cars to carry off their wounded, indicating heavy loss.

Turkey Hasn't the Money.

London, Oct. 16.—A Central News dispatch from Rome says: "According to a telegram from Constantinople published here, Turkey has informed Germany that, owing to a lack of money, she will have to demobilize her army."

Russ Report Victory.

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—The Russian general staff issued the following statement today: "South of Przemyśl a Russian column engaged and defeated the Austrians, taking seven officers and 500 soldiers prisoners, and capturing many rapid-fire guns."

British Cruiser Sinks Liner.

London, Oct. 16.—The admiralty announces that the British cruiser Yarmouth has sunk the German Hamburg-American line steamer Markomanna in the vicinity of Sumatra, and has captured and is taking into a harbor
the Greek steamer Pontoparis.

Both the Markomanna and the Pontoparis have been reported previously as accompanying the German cruiser Emden. The Yarmouth has sixty German prisoners of war on board.

DESPAIR OF AIDING WABASH

Reorganization Committee Says Only
Higher Rates Can Save Road.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Despair of being able to put the Wabash railroad on its feet financially was expressed by the reorganization committee, unless relief is granted in the form of higher freight and passenger rates. The road has been in the hands of receivers since 1911.

The reorganization plan filed with the public utilities commission of Illinois and the public service commission of Missouri last May was withdrawn by the committee, with the explanation that it was useless to attempt to carry it out.

Lured Germans On.

There is an intimation in the unofficial news that the Russians employed their customary tactics of luring the Germans to attack on unfavorable ground and of making the best possible use of concealed artillery. If the victory was of the propo-rations represented, the German invasion of Poland has been effectively halted.

The invasion began about Sept. 27, after the German general staff had taken over from the Austrians the entire control of operations in the east. General Von Hindenburg, hailed in Berlin as the "preserver of Prussia," was directed by the general staff to stiffen Austrian resistance in western Galicia. This having been accomplished and three German army corps joined to the forces of the Austrian commander, General Dankl, in the region of Cracow, General Von Hindenburg put in motion the offensive against Warsaw, designed to secure a suitable winter quarters for the Austro-German forces and to check the Russian advance which was becoming perilous.

Warsaw Victory Checks Austrians.

King Ludwig of Bavaria was assigned to command a German army operating eastward from Czenstachow-wa, while General Dankl, under the supervision of the German general staff, resumed an offensive in western Galicia. These various movements appear to have been checked by the Russian victory near Warsaw.

KAISER HOLDING HIS GROUND, SAYS BERLIN

Germans Claim French Repulse at St. Mihiel.

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Oct. 16.—
The war office issued the following official statement:

"In France there is heavy fighting
east of Soissons and the Argonne.
The French have continued to make attacks on our positions near St. Mihiel, but have been repulsed. The Germans have lost ground at no point, despite the official reports issued in Paris as to French successes. The emperor's headquarters have been moved farther into France.

"The general staff reports that the battle which began east of Wirballen (in the Suwalki district of Russian Poland) on Oct. 4 and has been raging since that time is progressing under conditions favorable to the Germans. The repeated attempts of the Russians to take the trenches by storm have resulted in heavy losses to them. A terrific artillery fire is directed upon the Germans daily in an attempt to drive them out, but thus far all these efforts have failed.

"Following the cutting of communications between Warsaw and Ivan-gorod on the western bank of the Vistula, the Austro-German forces are preparing to cross the Vistula."

CANDIDATES OF MERIT.

The Republican ticket presents a list of candidates that is without question the best ticket in the field today, and it is not saying too much to declare that the present republican ticket is the best ticket that has ever been presented for the consideration of the voters of this county and district.

Lawrence L. Sherman, candidate for re-election for United States Senator, is the only candidate in the state that is fitted to do honor to Illinois, or to wisely, sanely and capably represent this state in the Senate chamber of the United States of America. It would be a public calamity if Roger C. Sullivan, democratic manipulator, whose past records have been given so much publicity that it should be necessary to caution the voters against him, and Raymond Robins, millionaire dreamer, socialistic democrat, one-time free trader and now a single taxer, should either one be elected to the United States Senate from this or any other state. The voters of Lee county should remember when they go to the polls that a vote for Robins means a lift for Sullivan, for Raymond Robins will be the third man on the ticket, no matter who is elected.

Andrew Russel for State Treasurer and Francis G. Blair for State Superintendent of Public Instruction are the candidates for those offices that should be elected. B. M. Chipperfield and J. McCann Davis are the two republican candidates for Congressman at Large and they should receive the solid republican vote.

Christopher C. Duffy is the candidate from this, the second, district for Clerk of the Appellate Court. Chris Duffy is an old Lee county boy and has faithfully performed the duties of clerk of the appellate court for many years. He should and will be re-elected and he is one of the men for whom the women of Lee county can vote.

John C. McKenzie, present congressman from the thirteenth district, is a candidate for re-election on the republican ticket. John C. McKenzie is a thorough republican, but he is first a man and an American and he can be depended upon to creditably represent his district and wisely use his influence in the lower house of congress in Washington in the future as he has in the past. McKenzie is a statesman of the highest order. He is honorable and fearless and strikes from the shoulder for all things which he believes are for the betterment of his constituents and the nation as a whole. He stands for the policies and principles and politics that have made this nation what it is. Merit will win and that means that John C. McKenzie will win re-election at the hands of the voters of this district. He will have even more than his former splendid vote in this county.

Adam C. Cliffe is the candidate for State Senator from this, the thirty-fifth, senatorial district. He is a republican and an honest man and will battle fearlessly for the good of his people at home and the state at large. Mr. Cliffe is a native of DeKalb county and by the rules of reciprocity, DeKalb county is entitled to the senatorship this term. Mr. Cliffe's campaign is being made on principles that are republican, humanitarian and advanced. The residents of Lee county, as well as the two other counties in the district, can depend upon it that Adam Cliffe will represent them in Springfield in a way that will be a compliment to their good judgement in sending him there and will be a big benefit to themselves.

For Representative at Springfield, the republicans have two most excellent candidates, both of whom should be elected. William L. Leech of Amboy, Lee county, is one candidate and F. A. Brewer of Tampico, Whiteside county, is the other. Attorney Leech, President of the Amboy School Board, City Attorney of Amboy and Secretary of the Lee County Fair Association, has shown his ability and worth. The positions of great trust and responsibility that he holds in his own community show what the people who know him best think of Mr. Leech. Mr. Brewer has been chosen chairman of the Whiteside County Board of Supervisors and has been connected with the Whiteside County Fair. He is at present principal of the High School in Tampico, Whiteside county. Both of these men should be sent to Springfield.

For the important office of County Judge of Lee county, the republican ticket proudly offers the name of Attorney John B. Crabtree, a worthy son of a worthy sire, and a man highly equipped to carry out the exacting duties of the office which the republicans of Lee county wish to put him in. The qualities that are needed in the county judgeship are honesty, good common sense and a knowledge of law. There is no candidate on any of the county tickets who can as well answer to these requirements as John B. Crabtree. Remember, voters of Lee county, the office of county judge is a very important one. It has to do with the settling of the estate of every one who dies and leaves an estate. It concerns the women and the children, and the county judge should be picked out for his qualifications before his politics are considered. Attorney Crabtree has been a lifelong republican and should have the united support of the party, but he is something more than that and he should have the unanimous support of all the voters of Lee county.

Another extremely important office which will be filled at the election November third is that of County Clerk and the republicans are fortunate in having as their candidate a man who is so admirably equipped to handle the complex and important duties of that big office. Fred G. Dimick has been an honored citizen of this county all his life. Of his qualities as a man and

Wasted Men

By WALT MASON

The war goes on, there is no sign of peace; no seer can say when gory strife shall cease; no gifted prophet, in his spangled robe, can send a dove around the weary globe; the guns still roar, the captains march and slay, men's lives, like threshed out chaff, are thrown away. The young men die in battle, siege and rout; who knows what genius has been blotted out? Perhaps a Shakespeare lies among the slain, born to the bays, and born, alas, in vain! Full many a youth, with bright resplendent dreams, gives his warm blood to swell the crimson streams which moisten Europe, till their mists arise, and spread a veil of red across the skies. The youth and genius of the warring lands, with foolish weapons in their artist hands, are carving flesh, who should be carving stone, are wielding swords, when brushes are their own. Alas, what waste, what sinful waste of men, to prove the sword is mightier than the pen.

THE ZEPPELINS.

War is a terrible thing and we should be glad that the Zeppelins are not adding greatly to its horrors. For several years the world has shuddered when it thought of these giant war craft rolling silently through the heavens and dropping bundles of dynamite as big as haystacks upon their enemies. It was felt on all sides that when a Zeppelin got peevish at a nation and began blowing large, three-cornered holes in it, that nation would have to surrender before the overture was completed. It was believed that one Zeppelin with a few stern officers aboard could reduce a fleet to unidentified remains, blow the dome off of St. Paul's, and make a noise like the Nihilist convention in the vicinity of the czar's palace.

Happily these fears seem to have been greatly exaggerated. The Zeppelin has been mangled. It may be large and stern looking, but it is not cannibalistic. Next to soaring aloft with a full charge of gas and Pilsener, the Zeppelin seems to like best to come down to earth with a hollow thump and remain there permanently.

The Zeppelin is as long as a steamship, but when it is shot in the thorax it has no more vitality than a duck. Europe seems to be full of marksmen who can take a small but vehement cannon and get enough Zeppelins for a mess with a few well-directed shots. The horror of the dirigible seems to be visited strictly upon the heroes who have to go poking around the zenith in them without a parachute.

Many weeks have no elapsed since the giant Zeppelins were first unleashed upon the foe, and the capitals of Europe still stand. We are glad this is so. War is bad enough when conducted on foot. The sky should belong to the dove of peace. It is about the only place left for the poor bird, anyway.

a citizen it is unnecessary to speak, for everyone who has ever known Fred Dimick knows him for the true and noble American citizen that he is, and his friends are legion. As a candidate for the office of County Clerk, Mr. Dimick's qualifications give opportunity for the greatest of praise for (and remember this statement), in all of Lee county there is no man who is as capable of caring for the office of county clerk in the same efficient manner in which it has been conducted in the past than Fred G. Dimick. The reason for this is that for many years Fred Dimick has been deputy county clerk under Will Thompson, until now he knows every smallest detail of the office and the running of this important branch of the county government is second nature to him. For the general welfare of the smooth legal procedure of the wheels of government in this county and for the continued standard efficiency of the county clerk's office, if for no other reason, Fred Dimick should be elected county clerk of Lee county this fall.

John E. Moyer is the republican candidate for County Treasurer. John Moyer is well known to the voters of the county and they know him for what he is, an especially capable man. He is a hustler and is honest and will conduct the affairs of the county treasurer's office in a manner that will be a credit to the county and a pleasure to the citizens who have to transact business with that office. John E. Moyer is "efficiency" personified. He is in such a position that he can devote his entire attention to the duties of the important office and can best serve the people of Lee county. Those in Lee county who have the interest of the county at heart should not only make up their mind to vote for John Moyer but should take it upon themselves to get out among their friends and neighbors to work for him and the rest of the republican ticket.

Robert R. Phillips, the present deputy sheriff, is the republican candidate for sheriff. Mr. Phillips is considerably in the same position as Fred Dimick, the candidate for county clerk; he is in command of every detail of the workings of the sheriff's office and this alone is a great advantage that he voters of the county should be quick to seize, for Phillips can give a greater amount of efficiency. He is fearless and capable and an ideal sheriff, as his actions during his term as deputy have shown. This man has shown himself to be a worthy candidate and a man who can fill the office in a way that will rank up most favorably with the way that the county has been in the habit of having its sheriff's office taken care of.

L. W. Miller, County Superintendent of Schools, has shown the people of Lee county what can be done in the way of advancing education in country and town. He has done this to such an extent that he is without opposition at the coming election, but just the same, the voters of Lee county, voters of all parties, will put a square in the square opposite the name of L. W. Miller, just as a compliment to him and an assurance, though none is needed, that his work in this county has been appreciated. Professor Miller has gained a statewide reputation for the way in which he has advanced school conditions here.

Edward S. Rosecrans, the republican candidate for Circuit Clerk, is a young man of such commendable qualities that his name adds a great deal of strength to the already splendid list. Mr. Rosecrans lives in Ashton. He is especially capable and fitted for the office of circuit clerk and his election will assure that the office will be conducted in a highly intelligent manner. Mr. Rosecrans has never been in politics and thus has not become as well known to the people of the county as many of the other candidates, but the people of his own town are solidly behind him and wherever he has made acquaintance about the county during his brief campaign he has made a most favorable impression. He is of sterling worth and is the man Lee county wants for that position.

Fred W. Leake of Amboy is the republican candidate for county surveyor and he is amply equipped with the necessary qualifications to fill the position creditably.

The entire republican ticket is perfect. There is not a man in the list that could be improved upon. If the people of Lee county would further their own interests, they will vote the republican ticket straight.

PEOPLES COLUMN

COLORS UPSIDE DOWN.

George A. Detrick of South Chicago, former chief of the Dixon fire department and now chief of the private fire departments of the Calumet Elevators and the Rosenbaum Grain company at South Chicago, has the following to say concerning the marking of the Lincoln Highway in a letter, written to the Telegraph. Evening Telegraph, Dixon, Ill.

Dear Sir: I have read a great deal in your paper in regard to the Lincoln Highway, how it had been marked and what excellent work had been done in honoring our war president. I certainly was very glad to see it.

While riding to Dixon by train on August 4, I noticed while the train was entering Ashton, that all of the telephone poles along the route designated as the Lincoln Highway had been marked with a blue, white and red band. At first I wondered what it was and then I saw a pole with a large "L" painted on the white band and it dawned on me that this was supposed to mark the Lincoln Highway.

I wondered if the telephone company had taken the pole up and turned it end for end after it had been marked but as the train flew by pole after pole, I saw that they were all marked alike. Then I thought possibly the Lincoln Highway association was in distress but I spoke to a Dixon attorney, who had gotten on the train at Ashton and he told me that it was the official mark of the Lincoln Highway.

When I arrived at the beautiful city of Dixon, I noticed on First street that a gasoline tank in front of a garage with the band, blue, white and red. In front of a garage on Second street I saw another tank marked red white and blue. Now, I suppose they intended to mark the Lincoln Highway with the national colors but they failed sadly in their efforts to do so.

As the colors appear it is a sign of distress and I have often wondered why some G. A. R. man did not call their attention to this. I consider the red, white and blue the grandest emblem that ever floated before the winds. George Washington fought to establish it as our national colors. President Lincoln called the boys in blue to go to the South and protect it and now when this country wants to erect a monument for this grand and noble man which will extend from the granite hills of Maine to the Golden Gate at San Francisco and now to have it marked as it is, is enough to make President Lincoln turn over in his grave and come back to haunt the one who marked his monument upside down.

When the tourist of other nations travel over this great monument, let's have the national colors to guide him over the rolling hills and beautiful prairies from the East to the West, instead of a mockery of our national emblem. Let's have this grand monument marked with the national colors red, white and blue which will be an honor to President Lincoln and the United States, while as it is now, it is a mockery and a disgrace to the nation and to the man to whom it was dedicated.

I do not blame Mayor Brinton for his action in not wanting West Fellows street changed to the Lincoln Way, when it is marked with colors signifying distress. This should be changed. Let's have the na-

Andrew Russel.

Andrew Russel of Jacksonville, candidate for state treasurer, was born in Jacksonville June 17, 1856. He was educated in the public schools, the Illinois college and Brown's Business college in Jacksonville. Mr. Russel is chairman of the board of trustees of Illinois college and is a director in the State Horticultural society. He has been in the banking business for over forty years. He was president of the Illinois Bankers' association in 1902 and 1903. He served as city treasurer of Jacksonville for five terms and was elected state treasurer of Illinois in 1910.

in her most pleasant style and her maids gave her act a charming setting. The maids were Misses Catherine Owens, Mary Louise Fuller, Seville Crawford, Esther Stitzel, Ruth Worthington, Marcel King, Marcella Kent, Leona Durkes, Esther Wynn, Margaret Walters, Lucille Fletcher, Catherine Roper.

Following immediately appeared the famous troupe of Asthetic Dancers with Miss Marcella Kent as solo dancer. The butterflies were Ella Smith, Elouise Thompson, Mildred Keller, Katherine Durkes, Gladys Frye, Henrietta Yail, Helen Edwards, Mary Constance Wingert, Helen Cahill, Marie LeSage, Dorothy Raymond, Ruth Rice and Marion Cahill. The little clowns worked well too; Victor Eichler, Wilbur Wynn, John Roe, Paul Byers, Charles Kerz, Mitchell Dellmeyer, Horace Mulkins, Jack Forest, Harry Kerz, Franklin Rice, Hugh Brewster and Donald Raymond. Miss Kent performed her solo dance with her usual grace and merited the enthusiastic applause she received. Mrs. Warren C. Durkes and Mrs. W. E. Trein were chaperons of this group.

Act Second.

The second act opened with a startling exhibition by C. B. Yonts' wonderful collection of trained wild animals, the act being of a most startling nature. The clowns also made their entrance on this act, and they too, created a storm of pleasure.

Senora Amadora, Mrs. W. W. Gilbert, at the head of her company of Spanish dancers, who were chaperoned by Mrs. C. D. Anderson gave a delightful interpretation of Spanish song and dance, the dancers being Misses Neva Phillips, Avis Thompson, Helen Tribou, Kathryn Strong, Olga Rice and Mrs. Wilhelmina S. Kahler.

Gaffney Interferes.

A tragedy and wholesale arrest of participants nearly disbanded the circus after Senora Amadora had performed. Someone left the stage door open and before the audience knew it Gatch and Hockenschmidt (Major and Hennessy) were mixed up in a ten round pugilistic contest. The scene was true to life and Hennessy fell for the count. He failed to get up and Doc Yack (Dr. Z. W. Moss) and his pulmotor were summoned from the audience. Just as Hennessy was commencing to see clear skies again Police Sergeant John Gaffney arrived in response to hurried summons and while he was unable to catch any of the law breakers, his pursuit of Doc through the house was a feature. The stunt was one of happy farce comedy.

In Dear Old Italy.

Wilbur D. Hart as Tony Allegretto and Miss Josephine Altman as Rosa, delighted with their Italian scene and songs in which they were supported by Misses Helen Bacharach, Rosanna Rement, Ethel Sterling, Erma Drew, Elizabeth Owens, Georgia Marshall and Aileen Barry. Sixteen young ladies with Mrs. Adolph Eichler as chaperon, rendered charmingly a pretty Japanese dance, the dancers being: Misses Mary Craig, Pauline Fulton, Florence Stackpole, Hattie Schumm, Emma Schumm, Lucile Mason, Vera Thome, Elouise Hutchinson, Dora Smith, Harriet Church, Erma Brown, Helen Cramer, Helen Parker, Bessie Vaughan, Violet Fleming and Helen Pomeroy.

I. B. Hoeffer as soloist in Peg-O'-My Heart was greeted with applause as he took the stage and with the assistance of Miss Peg Morse, as "Peg" and the following young ladies and gentlemen gave a charming close to the second act: Misses Florence Dustman, Pauline Gannon, Kathryn Strong, Olive Bender, Alpha Talty, Mrs. Irvin B. Hoeffer and Messrs. Valentine Fisher, W. M. Spencer, Douglas Meaden, Robin Hartwell, Charles Hennessy and F. L. Ryon. Mrs. Z. W. Moss was the chaperon of the group.

Third Act.

The third act was devoted to this passing shows of 1914, and in this the leading lights of the stage were portrayed. Mrs. Z. W. Moss gave a charming impersonation of Anna Held in her song, "I Wonder What's the Matter With My Eyes," the chorus, chaperoned by Mrs. L. E. Edwards, being Misses Ruth Dysart, Avis Thompson, Neva Phillips, Frances Austin, Olive Bender, Helen Tribou, Neva McClary, Irene Judd, Corrie Eichler and Charlotte Laing, and Mesdames W. S. Block, R. C. Bovey and Vivian Beier.

E. T. Bailey's impersonation of George Cohan in "Life's a Funny Proposition," was also characteristic in a remarkable degree. Mrs. Wilhelmina Kahler rendered one of her charming dances as Miss Elsie Janis, concluding her act with the Hesitation Waltz in which she was assisted by Valentin Fisher.

The Pink Lady.

Miss Lucile Reynolds assisted by Messrs W. Hart, George C. Spencer, Leslie Homerick, Charles P. Hennessy, Irvin Hoeffer, Douglas Meaden, Valentine Fisher, John Batchelder, Frank McCarty and James Sterling, appeared as the Pink Lady in "Symphony"; the scene being a very pretty one. Miss Reynolds sang pleasingly and the work of the chorus was a feature.

The Cherry Sisters.

Mrs. W. W. Gilbert and Miss Ethel Sterling, as the Cherry sisters in impersonation of Vesta Victoria and Sis Hopkins, kept the audience in an uproar. Their act was a scream and has to be seen to be appreciated.

Mrs. E. M. Goodsell as Lillian Russell sang, amid a rose festooned setting, "Isle D'Amour" in her usual happy manner, being supported by Misses Kathryn Strong, Bernice Friedline, Grace Martin, Olga Rice, Hazel Kenneth, Edna Rosbrook, Lucy Badger and Mesdames S. N. Watson, W. A. Schuler, Henry Bartoli and Ruth Godfrey. Mrs. W. J. McAlpine was chaperon.

"Just a Little Love."

Elmer Rice followed with his serenade specialty, singing effectively, "Just a Little Love, a Little Kiss," in the chorus of which he was assisted by Miss Myrtle and Curtis Rice. The trio was beautifully harmonious and was heartily applauded.

E. T. Bailey sang "Girls, Girls, Girls" pleasingly the chorus being: Misses Kathryn Strong, Vernice Friedline, Olga Rice, Hazel Kenneth, Grace Martin, Edna Rosbrook and Mesdames Kahler and Godfrey.

The Grand Ensemble.

The performance was brought to a charming close by the grand ensemble, led by Miss Myrtle Ferne Rice as Nora Bayes, who sang charmingly and acted cleverly "Pinkerton Detective Moon." She was assisted by the entire cast and the curtain fell on one of the most entertaining homelike productions of recent years.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight the Princess theater will have a good program in a two reel feature entitled "A Tragedy of the North Woods," a Domino feature, Mackenzie of the Hudson Bay Co., is found murdered by Sands, a trapper. Sergeant Allenis detailed to catch the murderer. By clever detective work he brings the crime home to Burke, the assistant factor. He finds that Burke had been seriously wronged by Mackenzie and he shot him in self defense. Allen reports to his chief that he unable to secure enough evidence to identify the murdered. The "Mutual Weekly" will be shown this week and we will see some very interesting scenes. The other picture is entitled "Bill Organizes a Union," a comedy drama of great merit.

FAMILY THEATRE

Herman's Cats & Dogs and Thompson & Berri made their first appearance at the Family theatre last evening, opening for the last half of the week. The cats and dogs do a number of amusing and difficult stunts that are interesting and pleasing. The animals are well trained and go through their act with an eagerness that is astonishing and at the same time laughable.

Thompson & Berri have a singing and talking sketch that is rapid fire from start to finish and was well received by the patrons last night. Pictures tonight are The Brand, in two parts, featuring Alice Joyce and Tom Moore as father and daughter, and The Table of Higher Education That Was Too High for the Old Man.

PRINCESS THEATRE, CHICAGO.

There are many reasons why "To-Day," the vital and vivid drama of New York life by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer, now established at the Princess theatre, Chicago, for a long run, warrants description as the biggest dramatic success of the season. Things happen in it, happen tumultuously and surprisingly, continue to happen until the final curtain leaves the auditor tense and mentally, at least, gasping.

That play has a good claim to be worthy drama that is a leaf out of life. "To-Day" is. Unwelcome as is the truth, those who look on-eyed at metropolitan life know that the conditions portrayed in "To-Day" are not impossible. Nor are they exaggerated. "To-Day" is a transcript of the kind of life that is not uncommon and that is not decreasing.

Students of the theme of the betterment of the race have seen several plays produced under the direction of a medical society. If there were a vast organization for relieving the feminine half of the human race of the menace of the clothes mania that society would give its hearty endorsement to "To-Day."

In the case of the misguided Lily Wagner, her husband cures her of the craze that has soiled her life by killing her, but seeing "To-Day" and thinking about it will suggest a less dramatic cure.

One of the chief problems of every day life in the cities and in many small communities is how to induce women to dress according to their incomes. Talk to any thoughtful dress maker and she will tell you, unless you show unmistakable signs of the mania yourself, that the grip of clothes upon her patrons is appalling.

There is a remedy. Lily might have learned to shop intelligently or to make her own clothes of most of them. So she might have filled her closets with frocks that were pretty and suitable, and by such simple means the awful tragedy of her life would have been averted.

"To-Day" is a moral play. Lily Wagner died for her love of clothes. Her fate cleared the vision of every woman in the audience as to the true value of clothes in a well-ordered life.

CHAPTER XL

The Man in the Shadow.

Two hundred feet, if one, Hopi Jim fell from the lip of the cliff. Then suddenly the thing that had been Hopi Jim Slade was checked in its headlong descent by the outstanding trunk of a tree, over which it remained, doubled up, limp, horrible.

The miniature landslide that had been caused by his fall went on, settling gradually as the slope became less sheer. Only part of it, a double handful of pebbles, gained the bottom of the canyon.

Its muffled impact on the ground round his feet roused the man who had compassed the bandit's death from the pose he had unconsciously assumed on the instant of firing.

He stepped back, and snatched up a case containing binoculars.

Not before the glasses were adjusted to his vision did he find time to respond absently to the alarmed and insistent inquiries of his two companions, a man of his own age and a girl of some years less, who had been awakened from their sleep by the report of the rifle.

Now the latter plucked his sleeve, momentarily deflecting the glasses from the object which they were following so sedulously as it moved along the heights; a wildly running horse with a woman bound helpless upon its back, both sharply in silhouette against the burning blue.

"Alan!" the girl demanded, "what is it? Why did you fire? Why won't you answer me? What is it?"

"Judith," Alan replied tersely, again picking up with the glasses the runaway horse that fled so madly along the perilous and narrow track of the hill trail.

The name was echoed from two throats as Alan swung sharply and thrust the glasses into the hands of the girl.

"Judith," he affirmed with a look of poignant solicitude. "She's roped to the back of that crazy broncho—helpless! See for yourself; one false step—suppose a stone turns beneath its hoof—she'll be killed!"

While the girl focused her glasses upon that speck that flew against the sky Alan turned to the two horses hobbled near by and seizing a saddle threw it over the back of one.

At this the other man turned to his side and dropping a detaining hand upon his arm asked:

"What are you going to do?"

Alan shook the hand off and went on with his self-appointed task.

"Go after her, Tom, of course," he replied. "What else? That animal is crazy, I tell you!"

"Even so," Tom Barcus argued, "you can't climb that hillside on horseback—and if you could, you'd be too late to catch up, much less prevent an accident!"

"I know it. But suppose it doesn't fall... You know what's beyond these hills—deserts! And the girl is helpless, I tell you, bound hand and foot. Think of her being carried that way—all day, perhaps—face up to this brutal sun! She'll go mad if something isn't done!"

"You've gone mad yourself already," Mr. Barcus contended darkly. "What's it to you if she does? Suppose you do succeed in rescuing her: what then? As soon as she gets on her pins she'll try to stick a knife into you—like as not. What's she been chasing you for, all over this land of the brave and home of the free, but to take your fool life? And now you want to sacrifice yourself to her, out of sheer, downright foolishness in the head! I suppose you'll like me to call it chivalry! I'll tell you what I call it—funacy!"

"Don't be an ass!" Alan responded temperately, gathering the reins together and instinctively lifting a foot to the stirrup. "Who warned us yesterday in time to prevent our being crushed by that rock? Judith! Why was she separated from Marrophet and the others—alone up there when that beast sneaked up behind her—O, I saw him—I saw it all—and grabbed her and roped her to that broncho—if it wasn't because she had broken with them for good and all and started to fight on our side?"

"You're raving," Barcus commented in a hopeless tone. He looked to the girl. "Rose—Miss Trine—reason with this madman!"

Dropping the glasses, the girl came swiftly and confidently to her lover's side, lifting her lips to his.

"Go, sweetheart!" she told him. "Save her if you can!"

With a look of triumph for the benefit of Mr. Barcus Alan Law gathered Rose Trine into his arms.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Charles Barnicke was in town on Monday afternoon from South Brooklyn.

Notice! For some time past persons have been accustomed to going on the school campus on Saturdays, Sundays and week days, in the evenings, and doing considerable damage and mischief to school property. They have also opened windows and entered the school building. You are hereby warned to keep off said premises. Board of Education, West Brooklyn, Ills.

On account of weather conditions the baseball team did not make the trip to Lee on Sunday to play the last game of the season of 1914. It is very likely the game will not be played now.

With the proper patronage West Brooklyn can have drama and comedy shows just as well as much larger places. When a show comes to town if you will try to attend and patronize the company, they will be more ready to return again and in that way provide our people with more entertainment on the long winter evenings. Several shows are already billed for the local opera house this winter. Make up your mind to attend all of them.

William E. Bauer was in town on last Monday afternoon transacting business.

The directors of the Farmers' Elevator company are busy this week erecting their new corn cribs along the C. B. & Q. right of way west of town to replace the ones torn down a few weeks ago. Director John Fassig and Director John Halbmaier are superintending the work.

G. L. Edwards and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gehant Sunday.

Our next county clerk, Frank C. Vaughn, was in town with his fellow officials-to-be, Treasurer R. W. Jeter, Sheriff Fruin and Judge Armstrong, on Monday afternoon. The gentlemen report that the prospects for election are very good.

Attend the dance in the opera house Saturday night.

The West Brooklyn Volunteer Fire company held their regular meeting in the village hall on Monday night.

They began preparations for the annual Thanksgiving ball, which they give each year on the eve of Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bittner and son were visitors in West Brooklyn Tuesday.

A number of corn huskers from Indiana and southern Illinois landed in West Brooklyn this week looking for jobs in this vicinity. They found the hiring rather difficult for the first few days as most of the farmers are not ready to start picking in earnest yet.

Peter Barnicke was in town transacting business on last Tuesday forenoon.

Sam Carr will be pleased to buy as follows: Newspapers at 20c per 100 lbs., magazines at 50c per 100 lbs., rags at 1/2c per lb., rubber at 3c per lb and brass or copper at 5c per lb. He has his office at the hotel where he will be pleased to receive you in person or by phone.

Constable Chris July was here on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gehant were visitors in West Brooklyn on last Tuesday.

Edward Henry motored to Mendota on Thursday afternoon to transact business.

Notice! I will have a car of extra fine New York apples, winter stock, in West Brooklyn in about ten days. Make up your mind how many barrels you want and phone our store in advance to be certain of your supply. M. J. Bieschke, West Brooklyn, Ill.

Enjoy yourself at the dance tomorrow night, October 17th. Admission 50 cents.

Now that summer is about over for another year we must look to entertainment for the winter days. We are to be favored again with the Farmers

Institute on December 10th and 11th and this means that two big days are in store for the people of West Brooklyn and vicinity. We all remember the last institute here. It proved to be the biggest and best ever held in Lee county before or since and we pride ourselves on the fact that the coming institute here will be the equal of the one of the past. Secretary and Treasurer F. D. Gehant was in Freeport last week arranging for the program and reports that he has arranged for two splendid days for West Brooklyn.

He says he really has more noted speakers than he knows what to do with, so we are sure to hear the latest topics on farming and agriculture. Prepare now for the lecture by selecting your best specimens of vegetables, corn, canning, sewing and other articles for which prizes will be awarded for the best. You know how it was done the last time. Committees were appointed this week to start the local program and this means that with two months of solid preparation a great treat in entertainment and instruction will await the people. Local merchants and business men are offering many prizes for competitive articles and it will be worth your while to watch the appearance of the list so that you can best know what to strive to win. Over at Steward they are to enjoy two days of it in that town, following West Brooklyn's program. It might be well for us to state now that any person desiring to offer premiums for certain competition in any Lee might better get in touch with Mr. Gehant as soon as possible so that your wish can be given proper attention.

You will enjoy the 30c. in the opera house on Saturday night, October 17th.

John C. Yost was in town on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Amel Henry were in Mendota Sunday.

Read the home paper. Every new subscription assists in making the paper that much better. $1.50 per year in advance.

Yes, we still have the clubbing combinations with the Chicago dailies. The price has increased 5 cents over last year, it now being $4.05 for the Herald or Tribune and the News.

Thomas McCann of Dubuque, Ia., was calling upon friends in town on Thursday evening and incidentally attended the dance.

Erl B. Conibear was in town transacting business last Tuesday afternoon.

The Seelig's ball on last Tuesday night was given a great handicap by the weather man for rainy weather prevailed since the day before and it continued until the following day, at the present writing. During the early evening hours and lasting through the night the rain fell freely and this made it near impossible for the dancers to come out. Nevertheless 50 couples did fare very well in a financial way, they were well pleased with the enjoyment partaken of by those present. Who can imagine a more pleasing scene than 30 couples dancing to the sweet strains of Seelig's orchestra. This is unusual for generally the floor is so crowded that there is scarcely room for dancing. Therefore it is needless to say that those present had a grand time.

Remember that unless the rain falls to freely and the weather is too inclement the regular Saturday night dance will be given in the opera house the same as usual this week. The admission is 50 cents. The band boys will appreciate your presence.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woolley and daughter Miss Erna and L. W. Henderson motored to Chicago Saturday morning, returning home Tuesday evening.

Prompt Action by Parents Will Save Child of Mercury Victim.

Lowell, Ill., Oct. 16.—Prompt action by the parents of Miss Eva Hayden, sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hayden of Lowell, Ill., when they learned that she had taken bichloride of mercury by mistake, probably saved her life.

Miss Hayden took four tablets of the poison Monday, mistaking it for headache medicine. When her father and mother discovered the mistake they hastily applied "first aid to the injured" methods while awaiting the arrival of a physician. Tuesday and Wednesday Miss Hayden's condition was precarious, but today her physician said he believed she would recover.

DOES BACKACHE WORRY YOU

SOME DIXON PEOPLE HAVE LEARNED HOW TO GET RELIEF.

How many people suffer from an aching back?

How few know the cause?

If it hurts to stoop or lift—If you suffer sudden, darting pains—

If you are weak, lame and tired, Suspect your kidneys.

Watch for nature's signal.

The first sign may be a headache or dizziness,

Scanty, painful or too frequent urination,

Nervousness or a constant, dead-tired feeling.

Avert the serious kidney diseases. Treat the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills.

A remedy especially for sick kidneys.

Endorsed in Dixon by your friends and neighbors.

N. W. Beal, 620 College Ave., Dixon, says: "For a long time I had kidney trouble and it showed itself in various ways. I had rheumatic twinges, my back was stiff and lame and after bending over, I could hardly straighten. When I was suffering intensely, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Leake Bros' Drug store. They gave me wonderful relief in a short time and I still use them, keeping my kidneys in good shape. All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago holds good and I am glad to confirm that statement."

Mr. Beal is only one of many Dixon people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Beal had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c at all stores. high grade Holsteins at his residence,
Greenlawn Dairy Farm
7 miles southwest of Polo, on Polo-

This is not scalper stuff. The foundation stock was purchased by me in stock is in reality pure bred but not registered. Most of it was sired by Those wishing strictly high grade dairy stock will do well to attend this sale. The offering includes:

2 Pure Bred Holstein Bulls Woodlawn Mapleside Boy, sired by Sir Netherland Cornucopia, 15 of the Pabst Stock Farm, 5 years old, quiet, gentle and a sure breeder, 90 per cent of his calves have been heifers.

26 Head of Cows.

This is an exceptionally fine lot of cows. They have a yearly milk production record of from 8000 to 12,700 pounds per cow, and testing from 3.7 per cent to 4.5 per cent. Their records have been carefully kept and are open for inspection at the farm, or a copy will be furnished upon application to the undersigned. Fifteen of these will be fresh or forward springers by day of sale. Balance are milking now and have been bred to above pure bred bulls to freshen during fall and winter.

Of Interest to Women

It is Considered Bad form to Use the Pet Names of the Intimate Family Circle in Public—Refined Women Object to
"Honey" Except at Home.

How many people there are, women especially, who have never heard that it is bad form to use endearing words and phrases in public? It is almost impossible to ride in a public conveyance of any sort or attend any kind of public gathering without hearing the voice of the woman who seeks to impress upon those about her the fact that she loves her relatives and friends. All unconscious of the pity, disgust or amusement she is stirring up in her audience, she serenely goes on her way and never once dreams that she receives any but the most respectful attention.

The woman who addresses her husband as "Love" or "Darling" or "Sweetheart" in public may take a great deal of satisfaction out of her performance, but she lowers the poor man in the estimation of all who hear, and she also raises a lively doubt in the minds as to the sweetness of the home life. What should be saved for the privacy of the home is recklessly wasted on any unsympathetic public and nothing is gained. There are many unfortunate men who are dubbed "Love" or some such name by their associates, and go through life with the odium of being thought effeminate clinging to them, just because their wives do not appear well-bred in public. And in the case of helpless children the poor things have to suffer agonies on the playground at school when the fond mother follows them to the gate to fling pet names
after them.

The most refined ladies are drawing the line at being called pet names in public by their friends, so that the familiar "Honey" and "Dearie," that were so overworked some years ago among ladies are doomed to disappear. Instead of being a sign of coldness and indifference, the better plan does not waste the affection on the crowd, but saves it for the sacred home life and the intimate association of dear friends.—Farmer and Breeder.

Powder Puff in 'Handle

Novel Holder for Powder Puff.

Woman's carrying bag will generally other equally efficient beautifier.

When opportunity offers they slyly

Just imagine how infinitely more convenient to have these little ad-ached without being noticed. Parasols purtenances are now obtainable, because of the thoughtfulness of an up-to-date inventor. The top of the handle of the parasol is hinged, so that it can be easily raised. Beneath the lid is a small cup, containing powder puff, etc. In some of these handles the top when raised reveals a small mirror, an additional convenience that will naturally be appreciated.

Other personal ornaments that conceal the powder puff are the hatpins with large heads, in which the puff can be accommodated under a hinged top; pendants and watch bracelets.
In many of the watch bracelets, which are of course expensive, the puff is concealed beneath the watch in a little cavity just the right size and shape.

From a Girl's Notebook.

"The breath that blew o'er Eden" revisited this part of the earth yesterday and lured willing humanity to similar garden spots.

Public squares, parks and resorts are patronized by mortals conscious of the good in life; amiably and brotherly all nationalities and conditions of men rested and rejoiced in the "temple of nature."

Some mothers among the ozone-seekers chaperone, unaided, broods of six to a dozen healthy offspring;
again, one mother, assisted by a half dozen lackies, fretted over the care of one puny child.

Farm fields bloom with crops of crimson Spanish clover, bright yellow mustard and such beautiful intruder
as buttercups, violets and wild strawberries.
